

Allan Hancock Joint Community College District

Drug-Free Schools and College District

Regulations 2013-2014 & 2014-2015

Background

Congress passed the Drug-Free Schools and Campus regulations (EDGAR, Part 86) in 1989. As a condition of receiving funds or any other form of financial assistance under a federal program, an institution of higher education (IHE) must certify that it has adopted and implemented a program to prevent the unlawful possession, use, or distribution of illicit drugs and alcohol by students and employees. If audited, failure to comply with the Alcohol and Other Drug (AOD) Abuse Prevention Regulations may cause an institution to forfeit eligibility for federal funding. The biennial report must be completed each even-numbered year and must be available for examination to anyone who requests it.

According to the Higher Education Center's publication, Complying with the Drug-Free Schools and Campuses Regulations, A Guide for University and College Administrators, [Appendix 1] the required review is intended to meet the following objectives:

1. "To determine the effectiveness of, and to implement any needed changes to the AOD prevention programs.
2. To ensure that campuses enforce the disciplinary sanctions for violating standards of conduct consistently." [Appendix 1]

The district's policies and procedures promote alcohol free events and activities, except under the following circumstances [Appendix 3]:

- The alcoholic beverage is for use in connection with a course of instruction, sponsored dinner or meal demonstration given as part of a culinary arts program at the district and the instructor or individual has been authorized to acquire, possess, use, sell or consume it by the superintendent/president.
- The alcoholic beverage is wine produced by a bonded winery owned or operated as part of an instructional program in viticulture and enology.
- The alcoholic beverage is wine that is for use during an event sponsored by the district or an organization operated for the benefit of AHC in connection with the district's instructional program in viticulture or enology.
- The alcoholic beverage is for use during a non-college event in the Performing Arts Center when the event is not sponsored by Allan Hancock College, and the center is leased to a nonprofit public benefit corporation formed under part II (commencing with section 5110) of Division II of Title I of the corporation's code.
 - In this circumstance, the consumption of alcoholic beverages is allowed at those special events that foster support for district sponsored and approved activities and programs. Approval of the superintendent/president is required.
- The alcoholic beverage is possessed, consumed, or sold, pursuant to a license or permit obtained under this division for special events held at the facilities of the district during the special event. "Special event" means events that are held with the permission of the district's Board of Trustees that are festivals, shows, private parties, concerts, theatrical productions, and other events held on the premises of the district and for which the principal attendees are members of the general public or invited guests and not students of a public community college.

Approval of the superintendent/president is required.

The district operates a bonded winery connected to its viticulture instructional program. Students serving as representatives of the district at any event are prohibited from using alcohol and drugs. The only exceptions are as explained above, includes AHC Foundation sponsored events. In order to comply with AB 319 "Special Event Beer and Wine Licenses," the foundation submitted an application for a one-day "Daily License" with the California Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control.

B. Associated Student Body Government/Student Organizations/Student Activities

The Associated Student Body Government (ASBG) represents the students of Allan Hancock Joint Community College District. All ASBG and district sponsored activities and events are alcohol and drug-free. ASBG, which consists of 14 officers, is responsible for representing the needs, interests and perspectives of AHC students at every level of decision making within the district, to regional and state organizations and nationally as necessary and appropriate to promote and encourage student success. Additionally, they provide students with opportunities to engage in learning and leadership as well as governing processes and parliamentary procedure. Their mission includes supporting a vibrant student life on campus consisting of extracurricular activities and events that encourage cultural diversity, unity and college pride in order to enhance the general welfare and academic success of AHC students.

There are more than 35 student clubs on campus which enhance the educational experience of students and foster social, intellectual, and physical growth. Many clubs on campus create activities to promote drug and alcohol-free lifestyles. The ASBG and AHC clubs website identifies the current recognized active clubs on campus. [Appendix 9 and 10]

Normative Environment

Allan Hancock Joint Community College District has three locations that include the Allan

Hancock College campus in Santa Maria, Lompoc Valley Center, and Solvang Center. We work with local agencies to patrol the Solvang Center. All the sites are monitored and patrolled by police officers who are Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST) certified. The focus on community oriented policing, assist in maintaining a drug free environment, and educating the campus community on the dangers of drug and alcohol abuse. The college does not have on-campus housing. The Clery Report validates that there are few alcohol and drug-related incidents on campus. [Clery Report on page 7].

A. Personal Wellness services are offered through Student Health Services. Student Health Services provides confidential individual counseling by the district's psychologist, MFT and/or MFT interns, for students who have questions or concerns about their use of alcohol or use of other substances. [Appendix 12]

Personal counselors have an alcohol and other drug program that requires the student to participate in six sessions. When the program is completed, students receive a certificate of completion. If further counseling is required, students are referred to community resources and partners.

All students accessing care in the Student Health Center are screened for alcohol use at their visit using the Alcohol Use Disorders Identification Test (AUDIT-C) screening tool. Students that are at high-risk are given a brief intervention, written material, and encouraged to return to the health center if they have further questions or concerns.

Student Health Services provides several class presentations on request by faculty. The alcohol presentation focuses on levels of use, alcohol absorption, alcohol poisoning, recommended drinking levels, what is one drink, safe party practices and concludes with students completing an AUDIT screening, and receiving a score reflecting their current alcohol use.

Student Health Services provides Wellness Events on a monthly basis. October is National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness week and an Alcohol Event is held in the Student Center providing alcohol education and promoting safe party practices. Many community partners participate including the Santa Maria Police Department, Santa Maria Headway, Fighting Back Santa Maria, and ASBG.

Student Health Services conducts a campus-wide health assessment every three years utilizing the American College Health Association National College Health Assessment (ACHA NCHA). This survey provides vital health and wellness information about the current student population including alcohol use and other drug use.

There are many pamphlets and written material available in the Student Health Center that provide added information for students. A digital wellness magazine is also available called Student Health 101, which also provides alcohol and other drug information in various issues. There are a total of 10 issues each academic year. [Appendix 13]

B. The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) provides confidential counseling services to employees who have concerns about their use of alcohol or other substances. It is available to all benefited employees, family members, domestic partners, or anyone residing in the employee's home without the necessity of notifying the employer for authorization, thus maintaining the employee's privacy. [Appendix 14]

Per the Anthem Blue Cross EAP employee brochure, features of the program include:

- No cost, no co-pay
